Proposal Subject:	Guidance on Equivalence Criteria for Food
Specific NSSP Guide Reference:	N/A
Text of Proposal/ Requested Action	Under Article 4 of the World Trade Organization (WTO) Agreement on the Application of Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures (SPS) (the SPS Agreement), each member nation of the WTO, including the United States, is obligated to accept as equivalent a food regulatory system of another country if it provides the same level of health protection as is provided to consumers by its own system. Equivalent regulatory systems need not be identical. Under the concept of equivalence, the “sanitary or phytosanitary measures” used by an exporting country may differ from the measures applied domestically by an importing country as long as these measures “achieve the importing Member’s appropriate level of sanitary or phytosanitary protection”. Under the SPS Agreement, the burden of demonstrating that equivalence exist rest with the exporting country. The exporting country has the right to decide for itself whether the regulatory system of the exporting country is equivalent to its own or is inadequate to achieve “the importing Member’s appropriate level of sanitary or phytosanitary protection,” or that inadequate evidence has been provided to demonstrate equivalence. One of the roles of the USFDA in the National Sanitation Shellfish Program (NSSP) is the evaluation of foreign programs and the establishment of MOU’s with countries that meet the requirements of the NSSP. This responsibility of FDA is outlined in IV. A. 4. of the ISSC/FDA Memorandum of Understanding, March 14, 1984. Article 4 of the WTO Agreement obligates the FDA to accept equivalency in foreign programs. The Agreement requires that the USFDA consider acceptance of foreign shellfish safety programs that, while having a system of sanitary measures that differ from those applied domestically, are recognized as providing an equivalent level of public health protection. The FDA is seeking input from the ISSC for purposes of incorporating the concept of equivalency into the NSSP. Recognizing that FDA has a clear obligation under the WTO Agreement to take responsibility for equivalency determination, it is important to the Agency that this responsibility be recognized within the NSSP.
